

Secretaries, stating his inability, in consequence of ill-health and absence from Leicester, to give the same attention as heretofore to the interests of the Society. He offered to continue his services as Editorial Secretary and sub-Treasurer, and suggested—with the entire approval of his colleague, Major Bellairs—the appointment of a third Honorary Secretary, whose duty it should be to call and attend all the meetings, keep the Minute Book and papers of the Society, and to further its interests in every way in his power.

It was RESOLVED unanimously that the best thanks of the Society are due, and are hereby tendered, to Mr. North for his valuable services during the last thirteen years, and that he be requested to continue in office on the terms mentioned in his letter.

It was further RESOLVED that Mr. S. Bull, of Sparkenhoe Street, Leicester, be requested to undertake the office of Additional Secretary until the Annual Meeting of the Society, with the duties pointed out in Mr. North's letter.

July 27th, 1874.

MR. G. H. NEVINSON in the chair.

It was REPORTED that Mr. Bull had agreed to accept the appointment of Additional Secretary.

A Report of the sub-Committee was read relative to the preservation of Wyggeston's Hospital.

A LETTER from Mr. James Thompson was read relating to the Wyggeston's Hospital, and to the Summer Meeting and Excursion.

It was RESOLVED that the Summer Meeting be held in Leicester on the 8th and 9th of September next.

LEICESTER ANCIENT STAINED GLASS.

MR. NORTH contributed the following descriptive notes upon the remaining portions of this glass (see p. 138).

Four Saints are depicted on the Leicester Glass, viz. :—

S. MARGARET,
S. CATHARINE,
S. CHRISTOPHER,
AND
S. GEORGE.

A few words upon each will suffice by way of explanation.

SAINT MARGARET,

One of the most popular of the mediæval Saints, is supposed to have been the daughter of Theodosius, a pagan priest of Antioch. Having embraced Christianity she suffered martyr-
