This volume was a secret festschrift for Peter Woodman (in celebration of his contribution to archaeology, providing a series of significant papers inspired by Peter’s research) which was presented to him at the Prehistoric Society’s Europa day on 30th May 2009, where he was the recipient of the Society’s prestigious Europa prize.

It contains a collection of papers largely, but not exclusively, on Mesolithic studies in Ireland, England, Scotland and Scandinavia.

The 21 papers cover many aspects of predominantly Mesolithic archaeology in Ireland, mainland Britain and North-west Europe, reflecting the range and breadth of Peter’s own interests and the international esteem in which his work is held. His particular interest in antiquarians and the material they collected began early in his career and Part 1 presents papers which deal with artefacts and finds by antiquarians. Part 2 is concerned with fieldwork projects, both new sites and sites which have been re-investigated, predominantly focusing on the Mesolithic period. Part 3 presents papers on the theme of people and animals, particularly the topic of the Mesolithic–Neolithic transition from different angles.
