The Leicestershire Archaeological and Historical Society

Transactions
Volume 83 2009

Hon. Editors
Jill Bourne, M.A.
Graham Jones, B.A., Ph.D.

Hon. Reviews Editor
Graham Jones, B.A., Ph.D.

Published by the Society
The Guildhall
Leicester
LE1 5FQ
General communications relating to the Society’s business should be sent to the Hon. Secretary, The Leicestershire Archaeological and Historical Society, The Guildhall, Guildhall Lane, Leicester, LE1 5FQ. Societies in union are requested to direct their publications, sent in exchange, to the Hon. Librarian, at the same address.

The Editors will be pleased to consider contributions submitted for publication. They should be typed with double spacing and available in electronic form.

Guidance for authors can be found on the web site of the Society at www.le.ac.uk/lahs

All contributions should be addressed to

Jill Bourne,
Hon. Ed. TLAHS,
ULAS,
School of Archaeological Studies,
University of Leicester,
University Road,
Leicester LE1 7RH.

jilly.bourne@keme.co.uk

All reasonable care will be taken of such material but the Society and its officers cannot accept responsibility for its accidental destruction or loss.

ISSN 0140–3990

© The Leicestershire Archaeological and Historical Society 2009

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic or mechanical, including photocopying, recording by any information storage or retrieval system, without the permission in writing of the Society.

Designed and printed in Great Britain by 4word Ltd, Bristol.
CONTENTS

List of Abbreviations v
Contributors vii

Ashby Folville to Thurcaston: the Archaeology of a Leicestershire Pipeline 1
Part 2: Iron Age and Roman Sites
Richard Moore

The Excavation of a Roman Cemetery at 21–33 Newarke Street, Leicester 63
Michael Derrick

A Medieval Drawing of Leicester 103
Julian M. Luxford

Excavation of a Medieval Post-mill Mound at Manor Farm, Humberstone, Leicester 113
John Thomas

The Leicestershire Lin: A River through Time 131
Ernest Miller and Anthony Squires

The Ecological and Environmental Contours of an Early-modern Small Town: Loughborough, 1540–1640 155
David Postles

Development of the Boot and Shoe Industry in Leicester during the Nineteenth Century 175
David Holmes

Late Victorian and Edwardian Clerical Incumbents in Rutland 219
Gerald T. Rimmington

Reviews 229
ed. Graham Jones

Correspondence 239

Archaeology in Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland 2008 241
eds Tim Higgins and Nicholas J. Cooper
Abbreviations

The abbreviations of titles of periodicals or serial publications used in Transactions follow the principles set down in British Standard 4148 (1970). In addition the following abbreviations are regularly used in Transactions.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Abbreviation</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>APS</td>
<td>Archaeological Project Services</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BAR</td>
<td>British Archaeological Reports (British and International series)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BL</td>
<td>British Library</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>BUFAU</td>
<td>Birmingham University Field Archaeology Unit</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>CBA</td>
<td>Council for British Archaeology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>HBMC</td>
<td>Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission (English Heritage)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>JSAC</td>
<td>John Samuels Archaeological Consultants</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LCMS</td>
<td>Leicester City Museums Service</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LMARS</td>
<td>Leicestershire Museums, Arts and Records Service</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>MF</td>
<td>Melton Fieldworkers</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NA</td>
<td>Northamptonshire Archaeology</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RCHME</td>
<td>Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>PRO</td>
<td>Public Record Office</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>RCM</td>
<td>Rutland County Museum</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ROLLR</td>
<td>Record Office for Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TLAS</td>
<td>Transactions of the Leicestershire Archaeological Society (1921/2–54)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TLAAS</td>
<td>Transactions of the Leicestershire Architectural and Archaeological Society (1866–1912/13)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TLAHS</td>
<td>Transactions of the Leicestershire Archaeological and Historical Society (1955–)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>TNA</td>
<td>The National Archive</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>ULAS</td>
<td>University of Leicester Archaeological Services</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>VCH</td>
<td>Victoria County History</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>WRO</td>
<td>Warwickshire Record Office</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
CONTRIBUTORS

Richard Moore, Bsc., PhD., MIFA., has worked in archaeology for over 20 years, the last 12 of which have been with Network Archaeology. During that time the archaeology of pipe-lines has taken him to Germany and Azerbaijan, as well as many parts of the UK. Network Archaeology is the country’s leading specialist in the archaeology of linear construction projects.

He can be contacted at:
Network Archaeology
28 West Parade,
Lincoln
LN1 1JT

Michael Derrick is a former Senior Supervisor with the University of Leicester Archaeological Services.

Julian Luxford is Senior Lecturer in Art History at the University of St Andrews. He has written a book on the patronage of Benedictine art and architecture, and has edited another on the history of Carthusian order. He is currently working on a book of medieval drawings.

He can be contacted at:
School of Art History
University of St Andrews
9 The Scores
St Andrews
KY16 9AR
e.mail: jml5@st-Andrews.ac.uk

Ernest Miller is a local historian, archaeologist and lecturer. He has family connections and a life-long interest in the Ulverscroft valley and the River Lin.

Dave Postles is a University Fellow associated with the School of English in the University of Leicester. From 1988 to 2005, he was a member of the School of Historical Studies in the same institution. He is currently writing a book about early-modern Loughborough.

e.mail: pot@le.ac.uk
Anthony Squires has an intimate knowledge of Charnwood Forest. Over many years he has researched and written about the historic parks, gardens and ancient woodlands of Leicester. He is currently working on the former royal forest of Leighfield in Rutland.

e.mail: oldwoods@myemail4u.net

John Thomas gained his B.A. in Archaeology from the University of Leicester and holds an M.A. in Landscape Studies. He has been a professional archaeologist since 1986 and is currently a Project Officer with the University of Leicester Archaeological Service.

He can be contacted at:
ULAS
School of Archaeology and Ancient History
University of Leicester
LE1 7RH
Tel: 0116 252 5308

e.mail: jst@leicester.ac.uk

David Holmes. Following a lifelong association with the shoe industry, David Holmes has undertaken research on various aspects of the development of the boot and shoe industry, particularly in Leicestershire. He has recently completed a doctoral thesis, comparing development in Leicestershire with that in Northamptonshire.

Gerald Rimmington was born in Leicester in 1930. He was a pupil at the City of Leicester School, and subsequently graduated at the Universities of Leicester (MA), London (BSc., PhD.), and Nottingham (MEd., PhD). For over 30 years he had a varied career in education, including teacher training in Sierra Leone, inspecting schools in Malawi, and lecturing in Canadian universities. In 1981 he resigned from being Professor of Education at Mount Allison University to become Rector of Paston in Peterborough. He retired as Rector of Barwell in 1995. He is the author (with J. G. Pike) of Malawi: A Geographical Study (1965), (with Lillian M. Logan) of Social Studies: A Creative Direction (1969) and Education, Politics and Society in Leicester 1833–1903 (1978), as well as many articles in education, geography and local history. He is at present an Honorary Visiting Fellow in the School of Historical Studies at the University of Leicester, and also Chairman of the Committee of this Society.