Workshop Programme: Experiments on Ethical Dilemmas

Thursday 3rd May
9.30-10.00: Registration, tea & coffee
10.00 -10.15: Introduction and Welcome
10.15-11.15: Natalie Gold “Your Money or Your Life: Varying the outcomes in trolley problems”
11.15 – 11.30: Tea & Coffee
11.30- 12.10: Regina Rini “The self/other incongruity in moral psychology: data and implications
12.10-12.50 : Alex Voorhoeve “When Can(’t) We Trust Our Moral Intuitions in Distributive Cases?”
12.50 – 1.45: Lunch
1.45 – 2.45: Adam Feltz “Philosophical Dilemmas, Philosophical Personality, and Philosophy in Action “
2.45 - 3.25: Sébastien Tassy “Psychopathic trait affects the moral choice but not the moral judgement: experimental results of dilemmas resolution”
3.25 – 4.05: Florian Cova & David Spector “A Possible Solution to the Trolley Problem: Justice towards groups and the timing of the attribution of individual positions”
4.05-4.20: Tea & coffee
4.20-5.00: Mark Alfano “Expectations and Reflection Explain the Knobe Effect”
5.00-6.00: Urs Fischbacher "On the Attribution of Externalities"

WORKSHOP DINNER, 7.10PM MODERN PANTRY (SEE MAP)

Friday 4th May
9.30-10.00: Tea & coffee
10-10.40: Chris Brand and Mike Oaksford “Probabilistic Inference in the Trolley Problem and its Variants”
10.40-11.20: Tor Tarantola “Deadly Risk: Probability and Harm in Moral Judgment”
11.20-11.35: Tea & coffee
11.35-12.35: Fiery Cushman “The Philosopher in the Theatre”
12.35-1.15: Briony Pulford “Investigating the effects of framing in trolley problems”
1.15-2.05: Lunch
2.05-2.45: Jen Cole Wright et al “Motivated Moral Perceivers”
2.45-3.25: Bastien Trémolière & Jean-François Bonnefon “Mortality Salience and Morality: Thinking About Death Makes People Less Utilitarian”
4.05–4.20: Tea & coffee
4.20-5: Zachary Horne & Derek Powell “Emotional Arousal and Moral Judgment”
5.00-6.00: Shaun Nichols “Rational Learners and Non-Utilitarian Rules”